Quacky Ducks

Welcome to the Quackyverse and beyond!

The dopest ducks to ever graze the blockchain...

Quacky Ducks are a collective of 8888 meticulously handcrafted disobedient builders looking to make friends on Erc-721.

Come join us on our journey to conquer web 3.0 through an immersive and interactive roadmap taking the quacks to the “Quackyverse” and beyond!

Long ago, when the world knew only darkness, there lay the Infinite Duck... Floating aimlessly in the empty darkness...it was chill. The vast empty void eventually made the Infinite Duck go mad and implode from within.... He let out a Great Quack, which resounded into the void with pure creative energy. Worlds upon worlds burst into existence, each one more beautiful than the other.

Behold... The Quackyverse was born!

Backstory

Soon...

The Infinite Duck witnessed his creation bear into fruition, but it did not bear fruit. The Infinite duck felt the need to give life to new inhabitants in his own image and to scatter them into the Quackyverse...So he did something only a true quackster would do...he exploded into 8888 pieces that scattered across the Quackyverse, molding the Quacky Ducks into creation: cheeky, wild creatures that are always up to no good.

Each Duck is unique, and no two are the same. what unites them is the drive to come together, forming a universal community to share ideas, and be the cheeky fckers that they are. And some day, when all Quacky Ducks come together as one, The Infinite Duck will be whole again.

Backstory

In the beginning there was darkness, and then the Infinite Duck created light from darkness.

"The Grand Quackster"

We believe in order to create a strong community; we as a community need to start building.

It is all about enjoying the process and having fun in innovating, exploring, and taking part of this revolution in our own way.

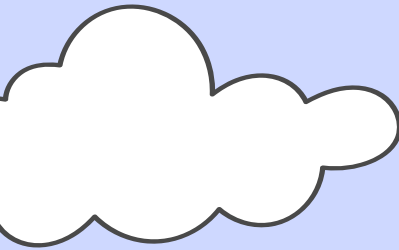

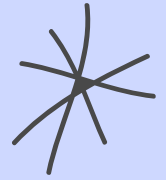

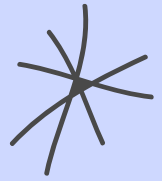

Being in control of your quack and its fate lies within your hands.

Don't let anyone strip you from the opportunity of partaking in web 3.0 in your own way!

Quacks want to create an inclusive community which is ruled by the quacks to serve the quacks and their utopian dream of becoming one again. Only through coming together as a community, voting, and innovating, are we able break out from the restrictions set by the web 3.0 overloads controlling the outer worlds and other inhabitants.

We will seize this moment to introduce a new way of governance into the ERC-721 standard and decentralize what is built on decentralization...period.
Build, have fun, explore, progress, and empower the best collective to ever exist!

Truely some Dope Shizz!!

Welcome to the « Quackyverse » where we build, innovate, and have fun as a community. Join us in creating lasting memories while surfing web 3.0!

Our plan for the project includes getting the community more involved in the development phase of the art. Which means that you will have a say in how to make your Quacky Ducks even more unique when we are ready to start metaverse integration.

With a rapidly progressing space, the ability to change and adapt is of the essence to make the project and its collective stay ahead of any innovation and development in the NFT space.

Not every project succeeds in web 3.0 for various reasons so we at Quacky Ducks want the project to be totally decentralized and enable the holders to control the fate of their own community and draw up the utility they see fit for the project.

Quacky ducks can only survive as a collective herd to graze the metaverse for the long run and create continuous utilities for the project.

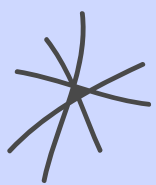

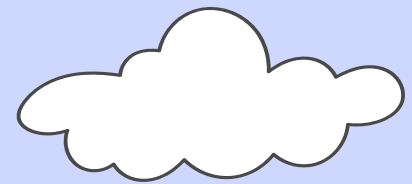

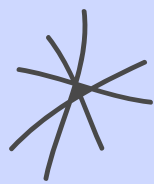

We are looking to build a real alpha community which is totally engaged to build, create, and have fun!

Our roadmap will be updated as we go based on community voting.
